

DuKane Institute Day

February 26, 2010

Keynote:
Wizard of Apps

Joyce Valenza

Special thanks go to our co-sponsors:

Dr. Darlene Ruscitti, Regional Superintendent
DuPage County Regional Office of Education

Doug E. Johnson, Regional Superintendent
Kane County Regional Office of Education

Hosted by:

Glen Crest Middle School
Glen Ellyn District #41
725 Sheehan Avenue
Glen Ellyn, IL 60137

PARKING

KEYNOTE

CAFETERIA

RESTROOMS

SIGNIN

RESTROOMS

LIBRARY

RESTROOMS

307

305

303

101

103

105

107

DuKane Institute Day

February 27, 2009

Continental Breakfast served from 7:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m.
	Library	Room 101	Room 103	Room 105	Room 107	Room 303	Room 305
8:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.	New Books for Elementary Students, K-4	Smart Copyright Compliance for Schools	Designing Your Library Curriculum with I-SAIL	The School Librarian as Library Advocate	Rtl and the School Librarian	Summer Reading School Wide	Developing a Strategic Plan For Your Library
9:45 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.	Gymnasium Keynote: Joyce Valenza Wizard of Apps
Lunch served from 11:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.	New Books: Middle/ Jr High Students, 5-8	Tyranny of Change in a Web 2.0 World		So You Want/ Need/Wish to Bring an Author/ Illustrator to your School?!	Monarch Award: Giving Children Wings	School Library Media Programs in Action	Easy, Safe and Fun Web 2.0 Tools to Use With Your Students
12:45 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.	Introducing the 2011 Caudill Master List	Everything You Always Wanted to Know About E-Books	Designing Your Library Curriculum with ISAIL	What High School Students Will Read	Becoming a School Librarian	Assessment Basics	Always Saying the Right Thing

CATERING WAS SERVED BY:

Hoffman House – HHH Catering

Phone: 815/397-5800

Fax: 815/397-0175

DuKane Institute Day

February 26, 2010

8:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

Room: Library

New Books for Elementary Students, K - 4

Kathleen March, Anderson's Bookshop

Come hear about recently published children's literature. Books presented will complement the Illinois Learning Standards and are suitable for classroom use. Genre will include picture books, easy readers and early chapter books, novels, and nonfiction. Level: PreK-4

Room: 101

Smart Copyright Compliance for Schools

Dr. Rebecca P. Butler, Northern Illinois University

Presented by the author of Smart Copyright Compliance for Schools: A How To Do It Manual, this presentation gives an overview on how to: develop, maintain, and evaluate a copyright (2009) compliant program in the school/school district; write or update a copyright policy and procedures; and conduct copyright training sessions.

Level: K-12

Room 103

Designing Your Library Curriculum with I-SAIL

Angie Green, Library Consultant, Alliance Library System

Have you been struggling to find ways to integrate what you do with teachers' standards? Join us in learning how to take the first step using the website Illinois Standards Aligned Instruction for Libraries (I-SAIL) as a guide for K-12 collaborative development.

Level: K-12

Room 105

The School Librarian as Library Advocate

DLS Advocacy Committee

As a school librarian you educate stakeholders about what you do, why you do it and its value to the community. Learn some simple tips on how you can be sure school librarians are always a part of the discussion of the value of libraries.

Room 107

Rtl and the School Library

Elaine E. Buch, PhD, Director Addison Trail High School LMC

Kathleen Smead, MEd, Head of the ESL, Learning Support Center, and the Addison Trail High School Rtl team.

Is Rtl something new for school librarians? Is it just another way of thinking about what we already do? Fluency, comprehension, and vocabulary development are skills required for students to be successful learners. We know this is true for all students, especially those that may be under served, but does the instruction, selection, and communication we offer deliver what is needed to support both the staff and students? Let's think together about how these pieces fit into your action plan for the school year as we explore our role in the federal Response to Intervention (Rtl) mandate.

Room 303

Summer Reading, School-Wide

Diane Mankowski and Kelly McGorray, Glenbard South High School

Join two intrepid high school librarians who set out to battle the boredom associated with traditional summer reading programs and turned an English department initiative into an all-school event driven by student choice. We'll share our specially-tailored book lists, our presentation to staff that led to over 80% volunteering for our program, our book discussion structure and program logistics. We'll also discuss tips & tweaks that account for a 1,135% increase in circulation at our school over the last four years.

Room 305

Developing a Strategic Plan for Your Library

Suzy Rabbat, NBCT, Olive-Mary Stitt Elementary School

As a participant in the Here's the Evidence Grant project, Suzy honed her skills at assessing student learning in the library. In turn, her district asked her to spend one day a week working with other librarians. She and the other librarians developed a strategic plan for their school libraries. Learn about how strategic planning can strengthen your role and enhance your value to the school.

9:45 – 11:00 a.m.

KEYNOTE

Joyce Valenza from Springfield Township High School, Erdenheim, Pennsylvania will take us on a musical exploration to the Wizard of Apps. If learners were iPhones, and we could "load" them with the really critical apps to inspire digital citizenship, information fluency, creativity, and collaboration, to take out into the world, how would we do it? Valenza is a frequent speaker at conferences. She wrote a techlife@school column for the Philadelphia Enquirer from 1996-2006.

Best library blog: Edublog Awards 2009 Joyce Valenza's Never Ending Search blog is the winner in the Best Librarian/Library Blog category of the 2009 Edublog Awards.

This session will be a webcast.

11:15 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

Room: Library

New Books for Middle/Junior High Students, 5 - 8

Kathleen March, Anderson's Bookshop

Hear about the newest available literature for students in grades 5-8. Nonfiction books will complement the Illinois Learning Standards for social studies and science curricula. Novels are suitable for literature circle use and class discussion. Additional genre will include picture books for older readers.

Level: 5-8

Room 101

Tyranny of Change in a Web 2.0 World

Dr. Barbara Fiehn, Western Kentucky University, and Dr. Rebecca P. Butler, Northern Illinois University

How do you deal with change? Inspired by Who Moved My Cheese?, the presenters will share strategies for surviving change in school libraries in a Web 2.0 world. Participants will be encouraged to share their coping techniques and experiences. (A website will provide post conference support for living with change.)

Level: K-12

Room 103

Open

Room 105

So You Want/Need/Wish to Bring an Author/Illustrator to your School?!

Alice B. McGinty, Author and Co-Regional Advisor, Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators

Children's book author, Alice McGinty, Co-Regional Advisor to the 900-member Illinois chapter of the international professional organization The Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators, shares sure-fire ways to help you plan, fund, orchestrate and prepare for a successful Author/Illustrator School Visit - a memorable, often life-changing investment for your school, library, students, and their stories.

Level: K-12

Room 107

Monarch Award: Still Giving Children Wings

Alice Joseph, Wilmette Public Library

Get your first look at the 2011 Monarch Book Award Master list from a member of the Monarch Steering Committee. She will also share strategies and ideas for participating and promoting the award in your school.

Level: PreK-3

Room 303

School Library Media Programs in Action: Civic Engagement, Social Justice, and Equity

Panel Members: Elaine Buch, Ph.D., Addison Trail High School; Suzy Rabbat, NBCT, Olive-Mary Stitt Elementary School; and Toby Rajput, NBCT, National-Louis University

Moderator: Gail Bush, Ph.D., National-Louis University

"We make the road by walking" is a popular expression referring to education and social change. Join an esteemed panel of school librarians who take action toward civic engagement, social justice, and equity through reading programs within an elementary school; within and outside a high school learning community; and through careful attention to collection development.

Room 305

Easy, Safe and Fun Web 2.0 Tools to Use with Your Students

Pam McDermott, Glen Crest Middle School

Let's face it – web 2.0 is ubiquitous and we can not ignore it in schools anymore. Our students are 21st learners and they need to be exposed to safe, easy and fun tools to enhance their learning. Pam will show you some of the websites she and her teachers use.

12:45 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Room: Library

Introducing the 2011 Caudill Master List

Bonita Slovinski, Lincoln Junior High School, Naperville #203

The 2011 Caudill Master List will be discussed by Bonita Slovinski who will also share strategies and ideas for using the books and for promoting the award in your school.

Level: 4 – 8

Room 101

Everything You Always Wanted To Know About E-Books

Dr. Barbara Fiehn, Western Kentucky University

The future of reading is digital -- or is it? While futurists predict the end of ink on paper books, librarians are struggling to manage the many formats and services of e-books. This session will help you sort it all out and perhaps help you to explore the potential e-books have to offer.

Room 103

Designing Your Library Curriculum with I-SAIL

Angie Green, Library Consultant, Alliance Library System

This session is a repeat of the morning session.

Room 105

What High School Students Will Read

Carolyn Roys, Lake Park High School; Gayl Smith, Waubonsee Valley High School;
Deb Turner, Metea Valley High School

Some of the best literature being written today is for teens and young adults. While the 2011 Abe Lincoln Master List is yet to be chosen, hear about some of the titles that are under consideration for the Master List of 20. Come see what your teens will be asking for.

Room 107

Becoming a School Librarian: Endorsements & Certifications

Dr. Don Hamerly, Director of the School Library Media Program, Dominican University; Mary Jo Matousek, NBCT, Meridian Middle School, Buffalo Grove; Jackie Plourde, Adjunct Faculty, National-Louis University

What is the best path to follow to become a certified information specialist in Illinois? If you are already certified, why should you consider earning National Board certification? Hear what each panel member has to say about the various paths of professional development.

Room 303

Assessment Basics

Linda Diekman, Glen Grove School, Glenview, Illinois

The measure of your program is not how many students you taught, but how many "learned." Learn how to add an assessment component to your program. Learn the basic steps of getting started. Identify opportunities, examine assessment tools and construct a plan for your library.

Room 305

Always Saying the Right Thing

Steve Mongelluzzo, First Communications

You don't always have time to prepare a formal presentation or answer to a question. This session will help learn how to develop "elevator speeches" and "memory hooks," and two minute presentations to use in those brief, but important encounters with administrators, board members and others.

NOTES

NOTES

NOTES

DUPAGE
Library System

Attendance at the DuPage Library System event constitute consent to be photographed for DLS purposes including, but not limited to, such purposes as publications, advertising and promotional materials. If you do not wish to be photographed for these purposes, please notify staff before the event begins.

5 CPDU's will be given for attendance at today's program.

Please remember to drop off your Evaluation form \(Blue sheet in handout packet\) and pick up your Evidence of Completion form at the registration table at the end of the day.

*Thank you for coming today and we hope you had a great time!
See you next year.*